Bungalow homes nestled between golf course, harbor

Aptly called “The Bungalows” for their unique charm and character, the new two-bedroom with loft and three-bedroom homes at Holmes Harbor Golf and Beach Club offer waterfront living at the much-touted south end of Whidbey Island.

They are reminiscent of homes you’d find nestled in the dunes of New England’s famed Cape Cod. But these bungalows are a lot closer — only 10 minutes from the Clinton ferry.

The homes are situated on the 18th fairway of Holmes Harbor Golf and Beach Club, and just a short walk from the waterfront clubhouse for golf and events, as well as dining at the Beachfire Grill. On May 28, visitors can enter a drawing for a $100 Beachfire Grill gift certificate.

A paved path to the beach was recently completed so homeowners can enjoy a waterfront stroll or take advantage of the picnic tables for a festive lunch.

The eye-catching architecture of these homes — with classic board/batten and cedar shingle siding, coastal paint schemes and charming craftsman flourishes — creates a sense of warmth and invitation upon arriving at Holmes Harbor.

Inside, these homes by CamWest Development feature nine-foot ceilings on the main floor, a generous use of windows, white painted millwork, gleaming Beech hardwood floors, interior doors with classic two-panel bead board accents and spacious master suites with five-piece master bath and luxurious tile finishes.

“These homes were just made for island style entertaining,” says Windermere agent Sonja Halstrom. “The gourmet kitchens are particularly appealing with elegant porcelain tile countertops and mosaic accent tile backsplash. We get a lot of great comments about the beautiful maple cabinetry in particular. People also love the open floor plan which allows the cook to chat with guests who are relaxing in the living room or taking in the golf course view from the patio terrace.”

Easy island living is also reflected in the convenience of “hands-free” landscaping, Halstrom says. “The grounds are beautifully landscaped and professionally maintained and irrigated. All you have to do is enjoy the view.”

Chances are good that visitors to Holmes Harbor will be welcomed by the sweet smell of a newly mowed golf course as they wind down the gentle country road to these new homes, nestled in a picturesque setting between the golf course and harbor, with snow-capped mountains in the distance beyond. Plans also include a community dock.

Whidbey Island itself is laced with water access, walking trails and
