

Housing Slump May Have Further to Go As Price Data Show

Bloomberg

Home prices in 20 U.S. metropolitan areas slumped in August by the most in at least six years, with fifteen cities showing a year-over-year decline in prices. Tampa and Detroit led the declines while Seattle and Charlotte posted gains.

August home price change, from a year ago, for 20 U.S. metro regions

Source: Case-Shiller