

East meets CamWest : Simple Holiday Decoration

by ROB BUTCHER on DECEMBER 21, 2010 in BUSINESS

The holidays are here and everyone is so busy. One thing that always helps slow life down around this time of year is the beauty of the season. Whether it's the decorations on the tree or snow falling outside, everyone pauses to take a breath and enjoy their surroundings.

This year two local businesses decided to join forces and make the holidays a little more joyful for everyone. Kirkland décor store, Simplicity Décor, and local builder Camwest, decided to unite and decorate 12 of the Camwest homes. Simplicity Décor owner 'A' decided to go with a less is more approach to decorating this year. "It's classy, elegant, and timeless", says 'A'. Simple, but definitely not boring, the decorations make these houses homes. It doesn't hurt that the Camwest homes are already full of cozy charm though. So, if you would like to experience this season at its finest, visit these Camwest homes:

- Nettleton Commons #10 in Kirkland
- Hazelwood #68, The Woodlands #27 and Perrigo Heights #12 in Redmond
- Tambark Springs #79 and Kimura Gardens #24 in Bothell
- Northpointe #115 in Mill Creek
- Lakemont Place #25 in Bellevue
- Shamrock Heights #68 in Renton
- Riverpointe #73 in Auburn
- Kimball Creek #12 and Magnolia Circle #14 Snoqualmie

You may find the direction to these homes at www.camwest.com and If you like any of the decorations please visit Simplicity Décor to pick out your own.
